Dear Carolyn,

Recently the Fairfield Cemetery Board of Trustees met for our annual business meeting. When our treasurer Robert S. Hartman gave the treasurer's report, he reported that you had sent the cemetery $100.00. As I remember you had done this a few times before as well as your father had done.

We the Fairfield Cemetery thank you very much for this liberal kind act.

Since you have done this several times before I thought I would give you a book (pamphlet) I made in 1999. It is a list of all the headstones in the Fairfield Cemetery through 1998 when I finished the project. The names are listed in double entry. The front is listed in sequence north and south as I went back and forth among the headstone rows. The back part is listed alphabetically so if you are searching for a particular name you can determine if it is present without going over the entire list.

Also in the far back I have a list of burial permits. If someone does not have a headstone and is buried in our cemetery in the past 70 yrs. or so, I should have their burial permit, however, a few I don't have.

In 1983 my wife, son, and daughter copied information from the old 1-acre township cemetery because these stones were deteriorating rapidly and some stones were already illegible. Their work is the only record we have of this old cemetery. We can preserve this record on paper but was losing it on stone. This township cemetery is included in this book but is entirely different.

I as well as a few other people, who have this book, have told me that they refer to it quite often. Some people think this book is a project from the cemetery but it is not. It is my personal endeavor and business ways has no connection with the cemetery whatsoever.

At a previous meeting when the treasurer reported your gift, two board members Robert S. Hartman and Gene Miller said, the thing they remembered about Carolyn Rensch was that she was real smart. What a nice distinction to be remembered for. I think they may have gone to the same school with you sometime, maybe at Fairfield.

Sometimes people contact me for information about their relatives concerning the cemetery. Some people have given me newspaper clippings, mostly obituaries. Among the newspaper clippings I received was one about you as Valedictorian of your graduation class. I am sending you the enclosed newspaper clipping even though you may already have it.

Sincerely,
Paul Reinoehl

Co-Valedictorians Named At Butler

BUTLER.—Carolyn Rensch and Jerry Beebe have been announced as co-valedictorians of this year's graduating class at Butler High School after ending the four years tied for top honors.

Mary Ann Hankey

Mary Ann Hankey is salutatorium of the class.

Annual commencement exercises have been scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday, May 24 in the school gymnasium. Baccalaureate services will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, May 20. Senior class day will be May 22, while the annual award day has been arranged for May 23. The 33 members of the graduating class, accompanied by their sponsors, will visit Washington May 13-19.

Goshen, Ind.,

Sept. 22, 1959.

Florian and Caroline,

Dear Folks: School has started around here and so I am at home alone again. I sort of like it that way. If I get tired of being alone I take a walk through west Goshen or up town and I always see several persons who know me and want to talk.

Last week one day a young man drove in here and wanted to talk Cripe family history. His name is Bowman and he is from south of Dayton Ohio. His father in law is the new pastor at the Rock Run church east of Goshen here and that is why he was in Goshen. He told me that his mother's name was Cripe if I remember correctly. He was familiar of the Cripe way of spelling and also had heard ~~of~~ with the Gripe form of it then he said that he had tried in vain to find those names on the imigration records. You remember you tried that also with the same results. Then he said that one day as he was looking over his grandfather's old bible in looking at the name he discovered that it was spelled diferent like this "Gribe" Upon looking for this name he found that one person of that name entered the colonies in 1733. There was no record of any other person of that ~~na~~ name ever entering this country so it might be safe to assume that was out ancestorial entery to this country.

The records might stand like this.

1733 Gribe-entered the colonies. (Imigration records)

1740 Gripe-a member of the Little Conewego church in Pa. (Brumbaugh History)

1770 to 1800 Gripe at Frankstown, Pa.(County records)

1811 to 1828 Gripe elder of Bear Creek church in Montgomery County Ohio.

1829 Cripe-Ind, and elsewhere (Many Records)

I hear that your father is holding his own. From what I've seen and read about cancer he ows to the Lord any progress he has amde in his fight against it. We are praying for him. I hear that your mother is starting to school again. I imagine that will be a hard pull forher but sincerely hope that she can make it very well. At least it seems a very sensible thing to do.

I hope you folks are doing well in your work there. A pastor is not only working for the Lord but he is working with men and women and they can be mighty discouraging at times.

We have had two good frosts that killed the garden. Right this minute the tepmerature is near 80 and the sun is shining. We had a little rain last nite, the first for a long time. So it is a very pleasent day.

As ever,

Glenn.

Hi everybody,

We haven't really seen Mt. Rushmore yet - one day to start through the Black Hills tomorrow. This morning we left Jackson, Minnesota, & crossed the Missouri. We stopped at the Corn Palace in Mitchell, S.D. and then came through the Badlands. We're staying at Rapid City tonight. One thing I'm sure of is that South Dakota is no place to farm! My folks will have more details on the trip.

Morning Glory Pool, Yellowstone Park, filled with pure water, over 200 degrees in temperature, never erupts nor even boils, always remaining quiescent like the flower for which it was named. It is 23 feet across and about 29 feet deep; the narrow fissure supplying this hot spring penetrates the earth to unknown depth.

Hi - We ate Grandmas potatoes in Butte, Montana, Friday evening after our trip through Yellowstone. Washington looks almost as bad as the rest of the West, except that here in the valley things are nice & green. Bye for now,

Carolyn & Florian

Hi - We crossed the Mississippi yesterday and the Missouri today. We also visited the Corn Palace and went through the Badlands. Tomorrow we're going through the Black Hills and into Wyoming.

Grandma, thanks a lot for the food - the cookies have already disappeared! We haven't had potatoes yet - in fact tonight is the first time we've stopped early enough to do any real cooking. You can get more details on the trip from my folks. Love, Florian & Carolyn

OFFICIAL RECORD

If a member transfers from one Council to another, it is very important that the Scout Executive of the Council, which he leaves, list a complete record of his registration and advancement in that Council. This is necessary in order that the member may receive proper credit on the records of his new Unit and Council.

SUPERINTENDENT'S NOTE TO THE PARENTS

This report card has been developed by a group of progressive and earnest educators of our county.

It is a message to you showing what the school is trying to accomplish and to acquaint you with the child's educational growth. Special emphasis is given the development of good health, work and social habits, and attitudes. The marks indicate the individual child's school development in relation to his own ability and effort to progress. We ask for your co-operation, for we realize that the enterprises that move forward, year after year, are those in which there is a high spirit of co-operation.

MARKS USED IN THIS REPORT

S—Acceptable work—Pupil working up to his ability as nearly as we can determine it.

N—Needs to improve.

The comments beneath the main division are marked (+) or (—) when in the judgment of the teacher, special attention seems desirable. No mark indicates no need for special comment.

Dear Patron:

According to my records you have a pamphlet of the Fairfield Cemetery Inscriptions from the headstones and in the back of it a list of burial permits.

Enclosed please find an updated page listing the year 2004-05 burial permits. Please insert this page in the back of your pamphlet.

Sincerely,
Paul Reinoehl

Carolyn:

at our last cemetery business meeting, Jan. 27, 2006 our treasurer Robert Hartman, reported that you had made a donation to the Fairfield cemetery in the amount of $50. for maintenance. For this gift we thank you very much. Some on the board were dissatisfied with the appearance of the cemetery last year and are in the process of correcting this at this time.

Wm. J. Staman Is Appointed.

William J. Staman of near St. Joe resigned Friday as a member of the DeKalb county board of review and Judge Walter D. Stump immediately appointed Charles Krise of Wilmington township to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Staman resigned because of the ill health of his wife.

The new member of the board is a prominent farmer and former Auburn postmaster. He resides on a farm east of Auburn on State Road 8. Mr. Krise is a Republican.

The other member of the board of review, which convened in annual session Monday, June 6, is Don P. Sprott of northeast of Auburn. Mr. Sprott is the Democratic member He is serving for the first time and is also a former Auburn postmaster. He replaced Harry E. Wert of Garrett who declined to serve after four consecutive terms.

Mr. Staman was first appointed to the board in 1952. He was re-appointed in 1953, in 1954 and again early this year.

The court-appointed members of the board serve with ex-offico members, including County Assessor Clayton E. Hartman, Auditor Harry M. Kirkpatrick and Treasurer Hildred Ensley.

The board, which will be in session for approximately 30 days reviews all peronal property assessments made this spring and may lower assessments upon valid complaints of taxpayers. Specified hearings are held for taxpayers from each unit.

The Butler town board of trustees passed a resolution at their regular semi - monthly meeting Monday night, calling for a referendum vote at the town election next November 8, at which time the voters will decide the type of government they want in the future.

Action was taken by the board after several weeks consideration, following a request by the Butler Booster club.

The referendum ballot will determine whether Butler will continue to operate as a town or change their status to that of a city. Under the town system, the governmental body consists of three trutees, one being elected from each of the three precints. Under the city system, the governmental body consists of three councilmen, one from each of the three precincts, two councilmen-at large, and a mayor.

Sometime in August the two leading political parties will hold caucuses, at which time each party will fill complete city tickets. When the voter goes to the polls in November he will be given two ballots. One ballot will contain the two lists of candidates, and the other will be the referendum ballot.

If the voters favor the city form of government in the referendum vote, Butler will become a city on January 1 and all elected officers will take office at that time.

If the voters choose to remain a town, the candidate in each precinct receiving the greatest number of votes, will be elected to the board of trustees. They also will take office on January 1.

The Booster club has been working for a number of years on the project of making Butler a city. At first it was impossible, but a special act by the state legislature paved the way for the referendum. It the voters approve the change, Butler can again enjoy the priviliges afforded a city, but denied a town.

The local board of town trustees approved the referendum vote under one condition. That one condition is that this paper inform the voters of all the advantages and disadvantage of both forms of government. While this paper is definitely in favor of the city form of government, we will be only too glad to print your views and arguments whatever they may be. To Drill for Oil In DeKalb County

Test to be Made In Spencer Twp.

Two Highland, Ill., men, operators of an independent oil drilling firm, announced Friday plans to sink a well on the Warren Smith farm in Spencer township, DeKalb county.

The firm is operated by Herbert Weeden and R. C. Stump.

The survey on the drilling site was made by Arnold R. Milks, DeKalb county surveyor.

The Smith farm is in section 36, three miles east and a mile south of Spencerville near the Allen-DeKalb county line. The indepedent drillers said they will start drilling at the Smith site within the next several days. If the Smith well is successful, Weder and Stump said two other wells will be sunk in the same locality immediately. Terrain at the drilling site is rolling.

Weder and Stump have several producing wells in South Illinois. This is their first attempt to strike oil in the DeKalb county area.

Three Butler Playgrounds Opens Monday

Hope to Establish Softball Diamond On N.Y.C. Property.

The three Butler playgrounds will open officially on Monday, June 13 under competent supervision, according to an announcement by Playgrounds Director George Cherry.

The Mason lot on Depot street, will be under the supervision of Woodie Blaker. A new basket has been added at the playground, giving the boys a full basketball court to play on. The water fountain has been fixed and most of the equipment painted. The youngsters will be able to enjoy croquet, volleyball, swings, slide, teeter-totter, sand pile and a merry go-round. Permission is being sought to build a softball field on the New York Central railroad property across the street from the playground, so that the attendant at the Mason lot can supervise it also.

The South Side playground on Walnut street is ready for the opening with all equipment in good condition. It will be under the supervision of William Ringenberg. A new full-length basketball court is ready, the water fountain has been repaired and the children may enjoy volleyball, croquet, slides, swings, sand pile and teeter-totter.

For the second year the high school playground will be open for the children to enjoy basketball, swings, teeter-totter, merry-go-round and croquet. Facilities for volleyball and badmitton will be up soon, and if space permits, a tennis court may be made available. Richard Lint will be in charge of the school park.

Young Women Hurt In Automobile Accident

Two young women were injured about 10:15 a.m. Tuesday when their automobile skidded out of control and upset on a curve on U. S. 27 south of Garrett.

Sheriff Frank E. Carpenter and Deputy Sheriff George A. Milks identified the young women as Mrs. Mary Jean Linberg, 21, Fort Wayne, and 16-year-old Rita Kearns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kearns of Garrett.

Both of them were thrown from the car which rolled over at least twice before it halted on its top.

Mrs. Linberg, taken to the Sacred Heart hospital, Garrett, suffered a fractured vertebrae in her spine, a broken collar bone, cuts and bruises. Miss Kearns, who was also taken to the Garrett hospital, sustained severe abrassions, cuts and bruises. A preliminary examination disclosed no broken bones.

The investigating officers said Miss Limberg was driving her 1948 Plymouth south when an automobile traveling ahead skidded and the driver braked the car to regain control. Mrs. Linberg braker her car and lost control on the wet pavement. The other driver regained control.

The vehicle skidded across the pavement and off on the east side before rolling over.

The mishap occurred during a heavy rainstorm. The curve, which is 300 feet north of Butler Center, is two miles south of Garrett.

The automobile was demolished. There was an estimated $25 damage to a farmer''s fence.

Burglars at Waterloo Get $1.00 in Pennies

Thieves stole an estimated $1 in pennies in a burglary at the Waterloo Grain company elevator in Waterloo sometime late last Wednesday or early Thursday after abandoning an attempt to punch the company safe.

Waterloo Policeman Willard G. Knott, Deputy Sheriff George A. Milks and State Police Detective Russell Huffman made the investigation.

Police said the burglars gave up after the punch they were using in an attempt to break into the safe became fast in the metal and they were unable to remove it. Police recovered the punch.

They said the thieves had knocked the combination off the safe before attempting to punch out the lock.

Entry was made by forcing a rear window on the north side of the building. The office was ransacked but a peliminary examination disclosed that only two 50-cent rolls of pennies were taken.

Decision in School Fight on June 27

Judge Walter E. Stump To Render Decision.

Judge Walter D. Stump continued for decision on June 27 the Smithfield township school injunction case after hearing final evidence in the DeKalb circuit court Monday.

The trial involved a complaint filed by 13 Smithfield township taxpayers who represent an estimated 200 remonstrators. They seek a permanent injunction against a lease approved for construction of a new school building in Ashley. Defendant are Lloyd Brand, Smithfield trustee, the Smithfield township advisory board and the Smithfield township School Building corporation.

The corporation was created to finance the proposed $200,000 school building under a long-term lease arrangement.

Arguments were presented Monday morning by Warren G. Sunday, Auburn attorney and special counsel for Mr. Brand, and Charles Fraze of Albion, attorney for the building corporation.

H. Clark Springer of Butler and C. E. McClintock of Waterloo, counsel for the remonstrators, presented their argument several weeks ago. The remonstrators contend that the lease arrangement is a violation of the Indiana constitutional debt limitation of 2 per cent on the assessed valuation. The case is another test of a 1947 Indiana act, amended in 1951, under which the holding company was formed.

Mr. Sunday cited in his argument an April 29 decision by the Indiana supreme court in which the Indianapolis - Marion county Building Authority was created to provide an office building for Marion county under a lease arrangement.

The case was Book vs. the Indianapolis - Marion Co. Building Authority. The plaintiff had alleged the lease arangement under the holding company was a violation of the constitutional debt limitation.

Marlene Doolittle in St. Louis Opera Chorus

Miss Marlene Doolittle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Doolittle of Butler, is one of eight Indiana University undergraduate students chosen for the famed St. Louis Municipal Opera choruses this summer. Seventy young singers and dancers have been selected for this summer's choruses.

The Municipal Opera opened its 88-night run June 2 with a new version of Franz Lehar's "The Merry Widow." Ten other productions will follow, with the season ending Aug. 28 after a two-weeks' engagement of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific." This show will be one of five in a spectacular Rodger and Hammerstein Festival that will comprise the last half of the season.

Miss Doolittle was selected as one of the Maxim girls in "The Merry Widow."

Members of the Municipal Opera choruses work at the 12,000 seat theatre in Forst Park seven days a week. They appear in the current production each night and rehearse for the next week's show during the day.

Call Made For Young Ball Players

New Nine-Team League Formed in DeKalb-Steuben.

High School Athletic Director George Cherry has issued a call for all boys who will be in high school next fall, and who are interested in playing baseball this summer, to turn out for practices which are being held each evening this week at the Maxton diamond at 5 o'clock.

A nine-team twilight league, composed of boys of high school age from DeKalb and Steuben counties has been organized and play will get under way in the near future. Teams in the league consist of Butler, Flint, Scott, Fremont, Salem, Angola, Pleasant Lake, Hamilton and Ashley.

League games will be played each Tuesday evening at 6:00 o'clock, with Wednesday evening as a rain date. The four top teams in the league will participate in a homecoming tourney at Hamilton sometime in August. The local team will play at the Maxton ball park which has been readied for the summer.

All boys interested in playing baseball this summer are urged to participate. The home team must furnish the umpire, and anyone willing to work games in Butler are asked to contact Mrs. Cherry.

Bulk of Estate Willed To Cancer Fund

A Butler township farmer who died May 18 left the bulk of his $30,000 estate to the National foundation of the American Cancer Society.

The will of the late John A. Reever has been admitted to probate in the DeKalb circuit court. Russell Housel of near Garrett qualified as executor by filing bond of $30,000 with the Fidelity & Deposit Co. of Maryland as surety. The bond was approved and letters testamentary ordered for issue.

The will provided for cash bequests of $1,500 to a second cousin, Ilene Fulk of Huntertown, $300 to another second cousin, Myrtle McBride of LaOtto, $500 to the Cedar Chapel church for remodeling and $2,500 to the Cedar Creek Cemetery association.

The rest of the estate was left to the Cancer Society. The document was executed April 5, 1955 and witnessed by J. D. Brinkerhoff and DeVon Wilmot, both of Garrett.

The estate is estimated at $20,000 in real estate and $10,000 personal property.

Town Board Okehs Vote on City Referendum Question

New Motion Made in the Webb Case

Asks State to File Report On Autopsy.

Defense attorneys for James E. Webb of Rt. 3, Auburn, filed motion Tuesday to require the state of Indiana to furnish copies of the post mortem examination and photographs taken of the autopsy at the investigation into the death of Webb's wife, Mary Annabelle Webb, 31.

Webb faces trial on charges of voluntary manslaughter in the beating death of his wife. The 32-year-old truck driver is scheduled to go on trial in the DeKalb circuit court in Auburn Sept. 22. He has pleaded not guilty to the charge and is free under $3,000 property bond.

Mrs. Webb, mother of five children, died May 16 at the Parkview Memorial hospital, Fort Wayne, of a ruptured stomach and intensive brain hemorrhage which the Allen county coroner, Dr. H. Paul Miller, said were caused by heavy blows on the outside of the body.

The motion seeking copies of the post mortem and photographs was filed in circuit court in Auburn by Grimm & Grimm, defense attorneys.

Judge W. D. Stump set hearing for the motion on June 27.

DeKalb County Gets Welfare Check $19,515

DeKalb county Auditor Harry M. Kirkpatrick has received a $19,515 check from the state Welfare department which included funds the state department withheld from the county in a dispute over the salaries of county welfare workers.

The settlement with the state was worked out last September by County Attorney Winslow Van Horne of Auburn and state welfare officials.

The money was the amount the state had withheld as its 50 per cent share of the salaries paid county welfare department workers. In December, 1951, the state department had ordered state funds withheld after the DeKalb county council denied pay increases set by the county welfare board. During the next 31 months, the councilmen refused to grant the salary boosts on grounds that present salaries were in line with salaries to other county employes.

In the agreement last September, the council voted pay increases for the welfare workers effective Jan 1, 1955.

New Nine-Team League Formed in DeKalb-Steuben.

High School Athletic Director George Cherry has issued a call for all boys who will be in high school next fall, and who are interested in playing baseball this summer, to turn out for practices which are being held each evening this week at the Maxton diamond at 5 o'clock.

A nine-team twilight league, composed of boys of high school age from DeKalb and Steuben counties has been organized and play will get under way in the near future. Teams in the league consist of Butler, Flint, Scott, Fremont, Salem, Angola, Pleasant Lake, Hamilton and Ashley.

League games will be played each Tuesday evening at 6:00 o'clock, with Wednesday evening as a rain date. The four top teams in the league will participate in a homecoming tourney at Hamilton sometime in August. The local team will play at the Maxton ball park which has been readied for the summer.

All boys interested in playing baseball this summer are urged to participate. The home team must furnish the umpire, and anyone willing to work games in Butler are asked to contact Mrs. Cherry.

2, 4-D Aids Weed Control In Corn

Hoosier farmers can strike back with a double punch at weeds in their corn crop, says O. C. Lee, Purdue University botanist.

Spraying with 2,4-D can be looked upon as an emergency measure as well as a general farm practice, reminds the specialist. If periods of hot weather occur later this summer, making cultivation impossible, farmers can come to the rescue of their corn crop by spraying with the chemical killer.

Lee cautions farmers not to replace cultivation with 2,4-D applications. Benefits will be derived from both practices.

Two types of 2,4-D (amine salts and esters) are available. Both are liquids, and either one will get the job done. However, there is greater danger of injury to corn from the ester type than from the amine. Therefore, when the ester is used, the dosage should not exceed one-third pint per acre.

Maximum safe dosage to apply to growing corn is one-half pound of 2,4-D per acre, equal to one pint of the most common amine material. A smaller dosage of one-half pint will knock out easy-to-kill weeds such as horseweed, cocklebur, and ragweed. One pint will be needed to destroy smartweed, Jimson weed, and morning glory.

Lee recommends that farmers apply either five or ten gallons of solution per acre. If attacking heavy weed growth, use 10 gallons. Spraying may be done anytime during the growing season except when corn it tasseling. Corn will not be seriously injured unless the recommended one pint per acre is exceeded.

For more detailed information a copy of Weeding Corn With 2,4-D, extension leaflet 357, can be obtained at your county extension office.

Miscellaneous Court

Margaret Wilcox of Spencerville has qualified in the DeKalb circuit court as administratrix of the estate of the late Arra Leighner who died May 11. Her bond of $1,000 with the American States Insurance company of Indianapolis as surety, was approved by the court and letters of administration ordered for issue.

County Assessor Clayton E. Hartman has filed a report of inventory and appraisement of property in the estate of Nathan Till of Waterloo. The report was filed for inheritance tax determination in the DeKalb circuit court. The assessor's report showed personal property at $1,436.45 and real estate at $4,750. Trodden H. Bookmiller of Waterloo is administrator of the Till estate.

The report of the sale of property in Altona from the estate of the late Orton E. Davis has been filed in the DeKalb circuit court. The report showed sale of the property for $800. It has been appraised at that figure by George R. Slater and J. A. Brinkerhoff, both of Garrett. Mozelle Griffith of Garrett is administratrix of the estate. Her report showed the property sold to Garnal and Patricia Handshoe.

Alexander Brown says: The Word of God is the only source whence we may learn what conversion is and how it can be brought about. An English dictionary should help us to understand the commonly accepted meaning of any word in everyday use, but if we mean to be correctly informed as to what conversion is in God's employment of that term, we must turn to the usage of the word by those holy men of God, who spoke as they were moved by the Holy Spirit.

Maximum safe dosage to apply to growing corn is one-half pound of 2,4-D per acre, equal to one pint of the most common amine material. A smaller dosage of one-half pint will knock out easy-to-kill weeds such as horseweed, cocklebur, and ragweed. One pint will be needed to destroy smartweed, Jimson weed, and morning glory.

Lee recommends that farmers apply either five or ten gallons of solution per acre. If attacking heavy weed growth, use 10 gallons. Spraying may be done anytime during the growing season except when corn is tasseling. Corn will not be seriously injured unless the recommended one pint per acre is exceeded.

For more detailed information a copy of Weeding Corn With 2,4-D, extension leaflet 357, can be obtained at your county extension office.

Miscellaneous Court

Margaret Wirick of Spencerville has qualified in the DeKalb circuit court as administratrix of the estate of the late Arra Leighner who died May 11. Her bond of $1,000 with the American States Insurance company of Indianapolis as surety, was approved by the court and letters of administration ordered for issue.

County Assessor Clayton E. Hartman has filed a report of inventory and appraisement of property in the estate of Nathan Till of Waterloo. The report was filed for inheritance tax determination in the DeKalb circuit court. The assessor's report showed personal property at $1,436.45 and real estate at $4,750. Troden H. Bockmiller of Waterloo is administrator of the Till estate.

The report of the sale of property in Altona from the estate of Lute Orton E. Davis has been filed in the DeKalb circuit court. The report showed sale of the property for $800. It has been appraised at that figure by George R. Slater and J. Brinkenhoff, both of Garrett. Mozelle Griffith of Garrett is administratrix of the estate. Her report showed the property sold to Garnal and Patricia Handshoe.

CHURCH NEWS

BUTLER CHURCH OF CHRIST

R. S. Rains, Minister

There was an increase in attendance last Sunday over the previous Sunday. We hope and pray that all the sick folks will soon be able to return. Richard Myers is our superintendent and the worship period begin at 9:30 a. m.

Communion and preaching at 10:30 a. m. The minister is series of morning sermons on the Holy Spirit The morning theme will be: "Pentecost and the Holy Spirit." Is He a person, a spirit or a nonentity? Has the Holy Spirit a place in our lives today, or is it all a myth? We should know what the Bible teachers on this important subject.

Services for the whole church and this includes all the workers at 8:00 p. m. who can get away from previous engagements. Had a good attendance last Sunday but there is room for more. Several of our folks are ill and some are in the hospital, let us remember them in prayer. Jesus said, "Ye shall receive power when the Holy Spirit is come upon you and you shall be my witnesses." Are we witnessing for Him by our daily living and remembering Him on His day?

Yes the summer camp season has arrived and the first week of high school camp begins Sunday. We have several who are going and can take more. Remember the church pays half of the tuition and you will have a wonderful week of thrills. Transportation will be provided for all.

A. Leander Brown says: The Word of God is the only source whence we may learn what conversion is and how it can be brought about. An English dictionary should help us to understand the commonly accepted meaning of any word in everyday use; but if we mean to be correctly informed as to what conversion is in God's employment of that term, we must turn to the usage of the word by those holy men of God, who spoke as they were moved by the Holy Spirit.

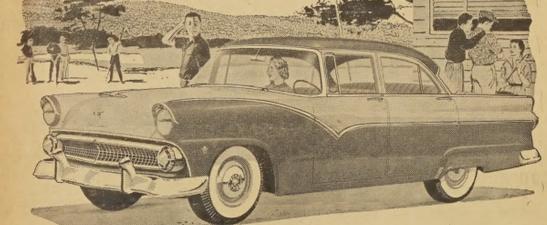
Ford leads all low-priced cars



in V-8 power . . . Of all the low-priced V-8's, only Ford's Y-block V-8 has an extra-deep engine block to give you smoother, quieter, longer-lasting "GO"! New Trigger-Torque power obeys your commands instantly, reassuringly.

in years-ahead looks . . . Only Ford brings you the years-ahead beauty of Thunderbird styling. The lower roof line, longer body line and flatter rear deck all say "fine car." And interiors feature new fabrics appearing for the first time in any car.

in smoother going . . . No matter where you go, Ford's advanced form of Ball-Joint Front Suspension smooths your way. Springs have been tilted to smooth out the bumps from the front as well as up and down for a new Angle-Poised ride.

in modern power assists . . . You can have your Ford as automatic as you want . . . at a price you want to pay. Power can help you shift, steer, stop . . . move windows and seat both up and down . . . even condition the air you breathe.

in choice of models . . . No other car offers you so many models to choose from. And in station wagon choice—whether you prefer 2 doors or 4 . . . seats for 6 or 8—Ford has a best-seller beauty to suit your needs.

and in resale value . . . Ford has traditionally returned a higher portion of its original cost at resale than any other car in its field. Why not get the whole story at your Ford Dealer's. You'll never want to settle for less than Ford.

Sells more because it's worth more . . . Ford the new best seller!

Hamilton Grange Has Memorial Services

Hamilton Grange 2109 held its regular meeting Saturday night.

Dora Lautzenhiser announced the Wittenberg Brotherhood will be held at the Grange Hall Wednesday night, June 8.

Memorial services which were held were very impressive. Madonna Alexander read two poems and the chaplain read a chapter in the Bible after which a song was sung. Prudence Ratts read the names of dec deceased members.

Charles Ratts is able to go out some and Alice Holman is to go to the hospital for some more check-ups.

At the next meeting the Juvenile Grange is on the committee and they have asked the members to either bring pie or sandwiches.

Juvenile Grange

The Hamilton Juvenile Grange No. 25 met for their 3rd meeting. Ten members were absent. A game called "Blowing Bubbles" was played. It was a game on testing skill with bubble gum.

It was voted that the money received from the bake sale will be used to purchase collars for each officer. The Grange also wishes to thank everyone who helped to make the bake sale a successful one.

Ford leads all low-priced cars

in V-8 power . . . Of all the low-priced V-8's, only Ford's Y-block V-8 has an extra-deep engine block to give you smoother, quieter, longer-lasting "GO"! New Trigger-Torque power obeys your commands instantly, reassuringly.

in years-ahead looks . . . Only Ford brings you the years-ahead beauty of Thunderbird styling. The lower roof line, longer body line and flatter rear deck all say "fine car." And interiors feature new fabrics appearing for the first time in any car.

in smoother going . . . No matter where you go, Ford's advanced form of Ball-Joint Front Suspension smooths your way. Springs have been tilted to smooth out the bumps from the front as well as up and down for a new Angle-Poised ride.

in modern power assists . . . You can have your Ford as automatic as you want . . . at a price you want to pay. Power can help you shift, steer, stop . . . move windows and seat both up and down . . . even condition the air you breathe.

in choice of models . . . No other car offers you so many models to choose from. And in station wagon choice—whether you prefer 2 doors or 4 . . . seats for 6 or 8—Ford has a best-seller beauty to suit your needs.

and in resale value . . . Ford has traditionally returned a higher portion of its original cost at resale than any other car in its field. Why not get the whole story at your Ford Dealer's. You'll never want to settle for less than Ford.

Sells more because it's worth more . . . Ford the new best seller!

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. J. L. Evrard

Young King Josiah

Lesson for June 12, 1955

Key Verse:

How can a young man keep his way pure? By guarding it according to thy word—Ps. 119:9.

In order to better understand this lesson read 2 Chronicles 34.

We are so often aware of our physical age, and try to treat our life according to some age standard. This is a common pattern established among us. At 65 a man is too old to work (this pattern may soon be changed to 60) or at an age past 40, parts of our body are supposed to become lazy and not function—we are told these parts need help. When we humans reach a certain physical age in life, certain things automatically should happen: a baby is to crawl at 6 months of age, a person in mentality and emotionally mature at 21. Yet, really our years of life on this earth have little to do with our maturity. Josiah, the eight-year-old king, should have been in Vacation Church School when he had ruled over a decadent country. When he was 20 he led Judah in a national reform, and when 26 years of age he not only repaired the temple, but pledged both himself and his nation (people to obey God. Recall how Paul wrote to youthful Timothy: "Command and teach these things. Let no one despise your youth, but set the believers an example in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity."—1 Tim. 4:12.

Youth dedicated wholly to God can make a most outstanding contribution. The young Josiah had to grow and learn among leaders and priests of his time. The writer of Chronicles claims he "walked in the ways of David his father" and so his tutored education must have been centered and concentrated on King David. To Josiah such training was not dull, but was evident all around him. With each descriptive phase of his study into David's life, there was the constructive imaginative rebuilding of the decayed temple and temple worship in the mind of Josiah. At sixteen, the story of God's dealing with the chosen people took a renew hold on him. David's success in Israel's history was the seeking of the Lord—this was to be Josiah's purpose in the leadership life of his people.

The reform under the young king was the most permanent reform in Israel's history. It was well formed, organized and carried out in a trained, cooperative leadership. "Hit and miss," "once in a while," and "when I have time" are poor excuses for any successful or knowing religious undertaken. The business man pursues his everyday work in an orderly fashion, otherwise he would have no business. The farmer schedules his work for days, seasons and years, if not, no weeds seed and soil sours. So it is in our church too: whenever anyone is called to do the Lord's greatest work—to worship God, our highest act of gratitude—there should be the continuous pursuit of solid training.

That the temple should be repaired and temple worship worship reformed seems to be an alternating cycle among the kings. Between the reign of Manasseh and Josiah, however, was the two year kingship of Amon. Manasseh's re-establishment of liturgical worship and temple beauty was quickly undone by Amon. Following Amon, Josiah brought his influence to bear on his people during his 31 year dominance on the throne.

Two centuries before Josiah, the temple was repaired under the leadership of Jehoiada and Joash. But the elements of nature (rain, sun and wind) and the neglect of the people (idolatry irresponsibility and complacency) stormed against the house of worship. Neglect is expensive and expensive to repair, in lives and in buildings of life. A traveller after looking at some of our churches in Butler would be led to wonder whether or not "God is with us." We sing "Immanuel" (that is, "God with us") in our hymns, do we really mean it, or are we proud of our revolting attitude? For neglect and complacency there is no blessing of God.

Throughout the reign of Josiah the refinished temple was to stand as a symbol of holiness. What we receive from the hand of God, we also deliver. Are we not holy? The form and way of worship was closely guarded. The interior or the temple, the robes of the priest, the liturgy all gave the worshipper the strong conviction of "God with us." And so should our churches today—their interior, the pastors vestments and the form of worship—bear witness of Christ with the form conviction "Christ with us."

Some worshippers recline and ease themselves" under the generation of Amon. Others stand between Amon and Josiah, knowing they do not like Amon's requests of idolatry which result in parental delinquency toward our youth, but these same people are skeptical about Josiah's expression of "high ideals." Still others, a third group of worshippers, who are in neither of these two groups have a Christ—concern for the young generation now present—and for those generations yet to come. There is no selfishness to be found in this group; they do not reflect their self on the church, but rather let the church reflect life on them. The comparative degree of like and dislike is not with them. In their thinking is not the idea, and certainly not the expression, "I didn't have it when I was a boy, so it isn't good for my children." Nor is the other extremeists idea, theirs: "I didn't have it, and since I didn't my boy must." Rather is the expression of this third group simple and brief: "They shall have the best." The best church building, the finest form of service of worship, the best equipment is to be theirs by What? This will spoil them, they say. No, this will encourage them to take the cross seriously, so generations before them did. This will allow them to expand under the work of the Cross, with the Lloyd Blaker family at Marion, Indiana.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Sieman and three children Ireno, Philip and Teresa, spent Friday night and Saturday at Adrian, Mich. They were guests of his brothers Joe and Paul Sieman. They also attended the wedding of a friend Miss Janice Gunter at the St. Mary's Catholic church in Adrian at 11:00. They returned home on Saturday evening.

A surprise bridal shower was given in honor of Miss Sandy Shrider last Firday night at the home of Miss Alice Everitts. The honored guest received many lovely and useful gifts. Miss Shrider and James Calvin will be married on Sunday, June 19, in the Hamilton Methodist church.

Shirley Wagner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wagner, has been accepted to participate in the 10th annual music clinic for high school students July 9-17 at Indiana University.

Monday cullers in the Walter Mock home were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hart of Wolcottville, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Mock of Dixon, O., and Mr. John Hagerty.

Mr. Lewis Wagner will enter the Parkview Memorial hospital at Fort Wayne, on Tuesday evening where he will undergo surgery on Wednesday morning for the removal of a cataract from an eye.

Mrs. Donald Pence entered the Lutheran hospital at Fort Wayne on Tuesday evening last week where she underwent surgery on Wednesday morning. She is gaining satisfactorily and was brought home Sunday. The three children are staying with the grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Pence.

The small house on the Stanley Everetts farm burned to the ground on Saturday night. Origin of the fire is unknown.

Pvt. Roland Coulson, stationed at Atlanta, Georgia, came by plane to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Coulson over the week end and Memorial Day.

Mr. Jerry Varner attended the funeral of a relative at Continental, Ohio on Sunday afternoon.

News of Particular Interest to DeKalb County Farm and Home Makers

Recognizing the fact that Butler is primarily a rural trading town, rather than an industrial city, this news is presented with the hope that the information herewith presented will make the prosperous farm people of this area still more prosperous and their work more pleasant.

DeKalb 4-H Clubs To Receive Special Recognition

The state 4-H club office at Purdue University has announced that DeKalb County will receive special recognition for having had an outstanding 4-H club program during 1954.

Based upon 4-H enrollment as compared to the potential 4-H members in the county, plus the number of members in standard clubs, DeKalb County will receive a silver award during the annual 4-H club Round-Up at Purdue sometime this month. Membership in the county in 1954 totaled 922, and of those 800 were members of standard clubs.

These awards have been made annually for 11 years by Prairie Farmer-WLS in cooperation with the Purdue University agricultural extension service The first time a county wins an award it receives a plaque to hang in the county extension office. Subsequent awards are in the form of engraved bars which are attached to the plaque.

The county Extension office says that 1954 is the 10th year that DeKalb county has qualified

Simple Method Determin Forage Moisture Content

One of the most common problems encountered in making grass silage of good quality is determining the percentage of moisture, says G. A. Williams, Purdue University extension dairyman. When the moisture content is above 65 percent, seepage flow usually starts, which reduces the feeding value and is undesirable in in the feed lot.

The Bureau of Dairy Industry reports a simple method which can be used very effectively. The test consists of compressing chopped forage tightly into a small ball between the hands for 20-30 seconds and then releasing the pressure suddenly. Condition of the ball and the corresponding moisture levels are as follows:

When the ball holds its shape and there is considerable free juices—75 percent moisture.

When the ball holds its shape but there is very little free juice—70-75 percent.

When the ball falls apart slowly and there is no free juice—60-70 percent.

When the ball falls apart rapidly—below 60 percent.

Mary Jane Baker of Newville Township will receive this award at Rose-Up next week for DeKalb county.

Progress Seen in Brucellosis Testing

Twenty-four Indiana counties have started the wheels in motion for the state brucellosis test program, says Dr. F. A. Hall, Purdue veterinary science department. All cattle in these counties are being blood tested, and as a result, reactors will be removed from the counties Twenty other counties are in the process of signing up for the program, and as additional 13 counties are beginning to organize.

The testing program, financed through federal, state, and county funds, will provide a 100 percent test in each county participating and will lead to a better market for each individual's milk, better human health, healthier livestock, and greater income, Dr. Hall adds that beef cattle will also be tested before the test will be considered 100 percent.

Local veterinarians will draw the blood samples but actual testing will be done in official laboratories. The Federal Government pays 50 percent of the total cost, Indiana 25 percent, and each participating county provides the additional funds to complete their testing program.

For further information farmers are urged to contact their local veterinarian, county agent, or the state veterinarian's office at Purdue University.

Tomato Disease Controls Given

Tomato diseases in the home garden can be controlled if home gardeners follow suggestions of R. W. Samson, Purdue University plant pathologist.

Some 10 or more distinct diseases can be found at one time or another on tomatoes in Indiana. Many are of minor importance while some cannot yet be satisfactorily controlled However, some of the most destructive disease can be prevented or controlled.

One of these is the soil-borne Fusarium wilt disease, which can be licked, Samson says, by planting highly resistant varieties in the first place. Kokomo, Homestead No. 8, Jefferson and Sunray have been developed to withstand onslaughts of the disease. The highly resistant varieties are equal if not superior in quality to other varieties, so should be used if wilt is thought to be present in a soil.

The pathologist says special chemicals must be used to control tomato leaf blights and fruit rots. Maneb, Fermate, Ortho and All-Purpose sprays or dusts are fungicides suggested for good control. All these materials carry good directions for use of these materials.

Three tablespoonfuls of any of the above mentioned materials in concentrated form in a gallon of water makes a spray. Same mix for one application on 100 row-feet of almost full-grown tomatoes A small 1½ or 2-gallon compressed air sprayer works nicely for apply the spray.

Best time to begin a preventive dusting or spraying campaign is six weeks after setting out the plants. Weather conditions will determine to a great extent how long to continue treatment. Fungicides should be present on the plants ahead of dews and rains to be most effective. Once-a-week apliation for five weeks will generally give adequate control.

For complete information concerning tomato disease control, Hoosier tomato growers are asked to write to the botany and plant pathology department at Purdue University and request Mimeo BP 75.

The report of final account in the Mary Ellen Grate estate has been filed in the DeKalb circuit court by Harry R. Grate of Waterloo, administrator. He was discharged from further responsibility by the court.

Corn Yield Increases As Cultivating Decreases

How many times should corn be cultivated? There's no rule of thumb to follow according to M. G. Peters, Purdue University agronomist. He says the number of cultivations necessary will vary with soil type, kind of season, seed bed preparation, kind and number of weeds, pre-cultivation practices, and the timeliness of operations. In actual practice each farmer cultivates as often as he thinks profitable or until the corn is too tall.

More than half of the 3,500 Indiana farmers who enter the Five Acre Corn Contest each year cultivate once or not more than twice. This in sharp contrast to the practices of farmers 20 years ago, when 90 percent of farmers cultivated corn more than two times. These figures show that, on the average, farmers are cultivating corn about half as many times as they did 20 years ago. Despite fewer cultivations, yields have continued to increase.

Peters says that there are a number of reasons for fewer cultivations today: (1) Farmers have more power and equipment that prepare better seed beds and destroy more weeds before planting. (2) More use is being made of the rotary hoe or spike tooth harrow when the corn is small. (3) Row-fertilized corn grows faster, giving less time for extra cultivations. (4) Weeds are being controlled by other practices, such as heavier corn population, better fertilization, and chemical sprayings.

Although the main benefit of cultivation is weed control, cultivation also improves soil aeration and increases water intake on tight, heavy soils. Once weeds are under control and the soil is friable, further cultivation is of little value.

Clayton E. Hartman, DeKalb county assessor, has filed a report of appraisement of real estate in the Ilif Slavin estate at $12,150 for inheritance tax determination in the DeKalb circuit court.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Rev. J. L. Evrard

Young King Josiah

Lesson for June 12, 1955

Key Verse:

How can a young man keep his way pure? By guarding it according to thy word—Ps. 119:9.

In order to better understand this lesson read 2 Chronicles 34.

We are so often aware of our physical age, and try to treat our life according to some age standard. This is a common pattern established among us. At 65 a man is too old to work (this pattern may soon be changed to 60) or at an age past 40, parts of our body are supposed to become lazy and not function—we are told these parts need help. When we humans reach a certain physical age in life, certain things automatically should happen: a baby is to crawl at 6 months of age, a person be mentally and emotionally mature at 21. Yet, really our years of life on this earth have little to do with our maturity. Josiah, the eight-year-old king, should have been in Vacation Church School when he had rule over a decadent country. When he was 20 he led Judah in a national reform, and when 26 years of age he not only repaired the temple, but pledged both himself (king) and his nation (people to obey God. Recall how Paul wrote to youthful Timothy: "Command and teach these things. Let no one despise your youth, but set the believers an example in speech, and conduct, in love, in faith, in purity."—1 Tim. 4:12.

Youth dedicated wholly to God can make a most outstanding contribution. The young Josiah had to grow and learn among leaders and priests of his time. The writer of Chronicles claims he "walked in the ways of David his father" and so his tutored education must have been centered and concentrated on King David. To Josiah such training was not dull, but was evident all around him. With each descriptive phase of his study into David's life, there was a counter-active imaginative rebuilding of the decayed temple and heart worship in the mind of Josiah. At sixteen, the story of God's dealing with the chosen people took a severe hold on him. David's success in Israel's history was the seeking of the Lord—this was to be Josiah's purpose in the leadership life of his people.

The reform under the young king was the most permanent reform in Israel's history. It was well formed, organized and carried out in a trained, cooperative leadership. "Hit and miss," "once in a while" and "when I have time" are poor excuses for any successful or knowing religious organization. The business man pursues his everyday work in an orderly fashion, otherwise he would have no business. The farmer schedules his work for days, season and years, if not, weeds seed and soil sours. So it is in our church; whenever anyone is called to do the Lord's greatest work—to worship God, our highest act of gratitude—there should be the continuous pursuit of solid training.

That the temple should be repaired and temple worship worship reformed seems to be an alternating cycle among the kings. Between the reign of Manasseh and Josiah, however, was the two year kingship of Amon. Manasseh's re-establishment of liturgical worship and temple beauty was quickly undone by Amon. Following Amon, Josiah brought his influence to bear on his people during his 31 year dominance on the throne.

Two centuries before Josiah, the temple was repaired under the leadership of Jehoiada and Joash. But the elements of nature (rain, sun and wind) and the neglect of the people (idolatry irresponsibility and complacency) stormed against the house of worship. Neglect is expensive and expensive to repair, in lives and in buildings of life. A traveller after looking at some of our churches in Butler would be led to wonder whether or not "God is with us." We sing "Immanuel" (that is, "God with us") in our hymns, but do we really mean it, or are we proud of our reveling attitude? For neglect and complacency there is no blessing of God.

Throughout the reign of Josiah the refinished temple was a stand as a symbol of holiness. What we receive from the hand of God, we also deliver. Are we not holy? The form and way of worship was closely guarded. The interior or the temple, the robes of the priest, the liturgy all gave the worshipper the strong conviction of "God with us." And so should our churches today—their interior, the pastors vestments and the form of worship—bear witness of Christ with the form conviction "Christ with us."

Some worshippers recline and ease themselves under the genius of Amon. Others stand between Amon and Josiah, knowing they do not like Amon's requests of idolatry which result in parental delinquency toward our youth, but these same people are skeptical about Josiah's expression of "high ideals." Still others, a third group of worshippers, who are in neither of these two groups have a Christ—concern for the young generation now present—and for those generations yet to come. There is no selfishness to be found in this group; they do not reflect their self on the church, but rather let the church reflect life on them. The comparative degree of like and dislike is not with them. In their thinking is not the idea, and certainly not the expression, "I didn't have it when I was a boy, so it isn't good for my children." Nor is the other extremeists idea theirs: "I didn't have it, and since I didn't my boy must." Rather is the expression of this third group simple and brief: "They shall have the best." The best church building, the finest form of service of worship, the best equipment is to be theirs. What? This will spoil them, you say. No, this will encourage them to take the cross seriously, as generations before them did. This will allow them to expand under the work of the Cross, with the work of the Cross.

How can a young man keep his way pure? By guarding it according to thy word.—Psalm 119: 9.

Progress Seen in Brucellosis Testing

Twenty-four Indiana counties have started the wheels in motion for the state brucellosis test program, says Dr. F. A. Hall, Purdue veterinary science department. All cattle in these counties are being blood tested, and as a result, reactors will be removed from the counties Twenty other counties are in the process of signing up for the program, and an additional 15 counties are beginning to organize.

The testing program, financed through federal, state, and county funds, will provide a 100 percent test in each county participating and will lead to a better market for each individual's cattle, better human health, better livestock, and greater income, Dr. Hall adds that beef cattle must also be tested before the test will be considered 100 percent

Local veterinarians will draw the blood samples but actual testing will be done in official laboratories. The Federal Government pays 50 percent of the total cost, Indiana 25 percent, and each participating county provides the additional funds to complete their testing program.

For further information farmers are urged to contact their local veterinarian, county agent, or the state veterinarian's office at Purdue University.

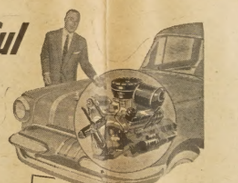
Here's where all that wonderful performance begins!



They're all true—all the wonderful things you hear about Pontiac's great performance.

The way it sweeps uphill or down with the same effortless ease. The tremendous burst of passing power that answers the nudge of your toe. The thought-quick response in stop-and-go traffic that makes the car seem part of you. The smooth, quiet way it goes about its business however hard or far you drive.

Lift the hood of a Pontiac and you'll be face to face with the reason. That compact power plant nested there may look much like other V-8's—but that's where your eyes deceive you!

The Strato-Streak V-8 is in a class all by itself—filled with engineering "firsts" that make it the mightiest engine ever to appear in Pontiac's price field. And it's one of the many Pontiac advantages you can't get anywhere else. Pontiac alone gives you the terrific drive of Strato-Streak performance.

This sensational performance, remember, comes in a distinguished, future-fashioned beauty that is tagged with a price any new-car buyer can readily afford.

Here's your wide-open invitation to come in and try the result—the fastest-selling Pontiac of all time. The car is ready whenever you are! Make it soon.

Most Modern Engine in Any Car

THE STRATO-STREAK V-8

The Strato-Streak V-8 is one of the great landmarks of automotive progress—the newest and most advanced engine you can buy. Standard with all three lines of Pontiac, it develops 180 H.P. and reaches a blazing 200 H.P. with the four-barrel carburetor, optional at extra cost. Either way you get the most power per dollar delivered by any car at any price.

WEDDINGS

Rensch - Cripe

The First Evangelical United Brethren church in Butler was the scene Sunday, June 5, 1955 of a lovely wedding when Miss Carolyn Rensch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rensch of Butler became the bride of Mr. Florian Cripe. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cripe of Wenatchee, Washington.

Rev. C. W. Miller read the double ring ceremony before the altar decorated with large baskets of rose peonies, heliotrope and white and purple centerbury bells. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of white nylon net with insets of Chantilly lace over white taffeta, fashioned with a bouffant skirt, long sleves and a Queen Anne collar. Her two tiered, finger-tip length veil of white tulle fell from a coronet of lace which matched that on her gown. She carried a Colonial bouquet of Briarcliff roses centered with a white orchid. She was attended by Miss Carol Scoville of Butler as maid of honor and her bridesmaid was Miss Myrna Faw of Chicago, Illinois. They wore identical gowns of nite green tafetta in waltz length with matching halfhats and their colonial bouquets were of Briarcliff and Better Times roses.

Robert Cripe served his brother as best man and guests were seated by John McCullum, Wabash, Indiana and David King of Ashley, Indiana, uncle and cousin of the bride. All men of the bridal party were attired in navy blue business suits and wore white carnation boutonnieres.

Organ and vocal music preceeded the ceremony with Mrs. Roy Baumgerdner at the organ and Mr. Ted Whitacre of Luray, Virginia as soloist.

Mrs. Rensch chose orchid silk shantung for her daughter's wedding with white accessories and the groom's mother also complemented her aqua silk dress with white. Both wore rose carnation corsages while white carnations were worn by Mrs. Harley Rensch and Mrs. P. E. Haney, grandmother of the bride and groom.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church dining room. The lace draped table was centerd by a tiered wedding cake surrounded by a floral arrangement of mock orange blossoms and Briarclif roses and flanked by tall white tapers. Miss Sandra Rosenberry of Butler presided at the punch bowl and guests were served by Shirley Flanigan, Ferndale, Michigan, Marilana Rensch of Angola, and Pat Rosenberry of Butler. Mesdames Doris Moughler, Jessie Houck and Kathleen Smith also assisted with the reception.

For going away the bride wore lilac lien with white accessories.

The bride was graduated from Butler high school in 1951 and both she and the groom are members of the 1955 graduating class of North Manchester College. The groom plans to enter the ministry and will continue his studies at Bethany Seminary in Chicago this September. Mrs. Cripe plans to teach in the Chicago area. They will spend the summer visiting his family in Wenatchee, Washington.

Out of town relatives and friends attending the wedding and reception were: Mr. and Mrs. Harley Rensch, grandparents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Rensch and children, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rensch and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Cole and Mary Alice, Miss Marian Cole and Mr. Rhoe Cole all of Angola, Mr. and Mrs. John McCollum and John Paul of Wabash, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Putt and daughter Deedra, and Mr. and Mrs. Doyle DeVoe and family all of Kendallville.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hoffman, Jackson, Michigan, Mr. and Mrs. Roy King and family, Miss Jean Brand, Mr. and Mrs. Orie Brand, Mrs. Alice Brand, Mr. and Mrs. John Brand, Mrs. Ethel Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. Orlo Deetz and Mr. Arthur Deez, all of Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Luttman and Mrs. Lillian Clingan of Hudson, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bickel, Waterloo, Mr. Robert Stinnette, North Manchester, Mr. Keith Hewitt, Sharpsville, Indiana.

Mr. A. B. Cripe, grandfather of the groom, and Mr. Virgil Cripe of Goshen, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stephens, Westville, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Haney and family of Rochester, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Haney, the groom's grandparents of Bristol, Indiana, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Berger, Plymouth, Indiana and Mr. and Mrs. Dana Meyers of Deer Creek, Indiana.

Whittecar - Emenhiser

Miss Shirley Ann Whittecar and Stanley D. Emenhiser exchanged nupital vows May at two o'clock in the afternoon in the United Brethren church at Newville, Ind.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Myron E. Whittecar of 204 Covell street, Garrett, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Emenhiser of near St. Joe.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Carl Thompson before a background of gladioli and spring flowers. The bridal music included "The Lord's Prayer," "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, selected a nylon tulle and Chantilly lace over sation ballerina length gown The skirt was fashioned with four tiers of lace. She wore matching mitts. A matching sweetheart contour cap beautified with seed pearls held her veil of nylon net. She carried a bouquet of red roses and her only jewelry was a pearl and rhinestone necklace, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. Merritt Tuttle of 305 High street, Garrett, attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length gown of pink nylon net over taffeta. The bridesmaid, Miss Doris Geradot of Monroeville, niece of the groom, was attired in a ballerina lenght gown of blue nylon net over taffeta. The attendants wore tiaras of net with seed pearls Their corsages were pink and white carnations. The matron of honor wore a white beaded necklace and the bridesmaid a strand of pearls, gifts from the bride.

The flower girls, Freda Whittecar, niece of the bride, and Cynthia Peterson, niece of the groom, wore matching pink and blue nylon dresses with halos of flowers. Randy Peterson, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

Jerry Emenhiser served as best man. The ushers were James Whittecar, Garrett, brother of the bride, Elwood Emenhiser and Michael Emenhiser of near St. Joe, brothers of the groom.

Mrs. Whittecar, the bride's mother, chose a grey nylon dress with white accessories and the groom's mother wore a nevy taffeta dress with white accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the church.

When the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls, N. Y., the bride was wearing a blue suit with white accessories. They are now residing in a newly furnished residence at St. Joe.

The bride is employed in the offices of Messenger Corporation in Auburn and the groom is employed by the Auburn street department.

Higher Values In DeKalb County

Personal Property Reaches New High.

County Assessor Clayton E. Hartman reports that the 1955 assessed valuation of personal property in DeKalb county increased more than $440,000 to equal an all-time high.

In 1954, valuation had dropped from more than $11,900,000 in 1953 to $11,477,685.

The final report on the 1955 spring assessing, which has been filed with the state shows total personal property assessments of $11,918,661.

Generally good business throughout the county served to recoup the loss in the 1954 assessment.

In 1952, total assessment was $11,8000,00 and $11,120,000 in 1951.

The final report on the annual spring assessment, which started March 1 and ended May 15, was filed by Mr. Hartman after compilation of assessments by township trustees and elected and deputy township assessors.

The total figure represents only a part of the taxable property in DeKalb county and only a share of the personal property that is taxed. The valuations of real estate are not included and the total does not show assessment of railroads and utilities. Assessments of utilities and railroads are made annually by the state board of tax commissioners.

Comparative Figures

Households were assessed on the average at $295 this spring compared with $293.

Other comparative figures show:

A drop of 100 in the number of assessed milk cows Beef cattle, on the other hand, showed an increase of 650 and $25,000 more in valuation.

The assessor's figures list 600 more automobiles and trucks in the county and a jump of $180,000 in valuation.

A big drop in the average value of hogs, from $21 to $14 offset an incerase of 1,700 animals in the county. The drop in valuation amounted to $14,000.

Total valuation of farm tractors was up $90,000.

There were 100 more assessment of farm implements with an increase of $40,000 in valuation. The reported listed 600 more cattle in the "other cattle" classification and a jump of $32,000 in valuation.

The final report showed a $600 boost in the average valuation of retail stores and merchandise. Fourteen more were assessed for a total increase in valuation of $30,000.

Auburn led the taxing units with the most household assessments, 1,981. Garrett followed with 1,322. Auburn also listed the most automobiles and trucks, 2,542 compared with Garrett's 1,238.

Among the townships, Fairfield led in livestock assessments. Farmers in Fairfield were assessed for 1,040 milk cows, 1,807 other cattle, 2,500 hogs and 1,382 dozens of poultry.

Jackson township listed the most sheep, 829.

Breakdown of Assessments

Following are listed the total number of assessments, total valuation and average assessments:

Household goods — 7,924 units, $2,338,305 valuation, $295 average.

Automobiles and trucks — 9,833 $8,877,720 valuation, $394 average.

Farm implements — 1,554, $1,004,708 valuation, $646 average.

Farm tractors — 2,083, $745,889 valuation, $358 average.

Beef cattle—1,207, $75,430 valuation, $63 average.

Milk cows — 7,513, $758,527 valuation, $101 average.

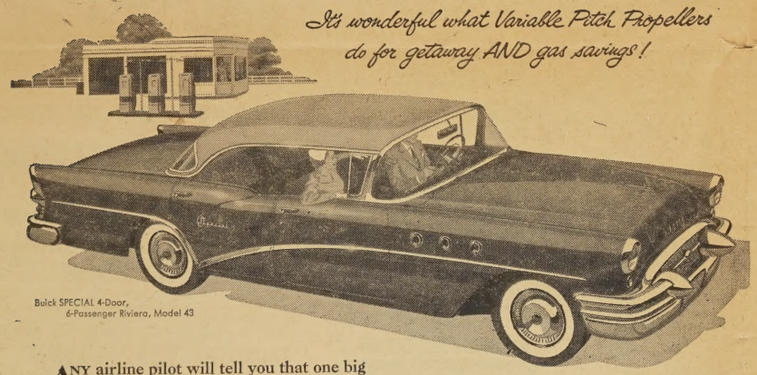
Want to watch the gas pumps go by?

It's wonderful what Variable Pitch Propellers do for getaway AND gas savings!



Buick SPECIAL 4-Door, 6-Passenger Riviera, Model 43

ANY airline pilot will tell you that one big reason for the modern plane's greatly increased cruising range aloft is the variable pitch propeller.

To get off the ground, of course, the pilot needs plenty of acceleration, for take-off and climb. So his propellers must "bite" into air at a certain angle for utmost performance.

But once the plane is at cruising altitude, great power acceleration is no longer needed — fuel efficiency is. So the pilot switches the pitch of his propeller blades to high-economy angle—and gets a lot more mileage from the fuel in his tanks.

That's why Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow* is such a sensation everywhere.

For the same aviation principle that brings this two-way magic to the modern plane is now found in the propeller-like blades whirling in oil inside the Dynaflow unit.

Just by pressing the gas pedal way down, you switch the pitch and get instantaneous getaway response or safety-surge acceleration.

Just by easing up on the pedal, you change the pitch to high-economy angle — and get new and better gas mileage in all normal driving and cruising.

It's a spectacular and sensible achievement —this new Dynaflow Drive—a brand-new thrill and a brand-new thriftiness.

And with it goes the might of record-high V8 power—and the level luxury of Buick's all-coil-spring ride—and the spacious roominess of Buick's broad interiors—and the host of other advanced features that add to Buick's brimming value.

Come in and try what is very definitely the performance thrill of the year—and see for yourself why Buick sales are soaring to all-time best-seller highs.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

The price of the book is $18.00. And, the postage price is written on the package. Please send the total as soon as possible. Thanks.

Also, enclosed in the book are 2 strips of paper which, when cut into strips and wetted, should be placed at the top of pages 17-77 in the white section. This should cover "The Family of —— Continued" and will enable you and others who read this book to know who the first generation is, according to the Table of Contents.

Thanks, Kermit, for all your family help. Enjoy your book!

Thank you for your order of this book. I do hope you enjoy reading through it.

If, after reading this book and sharing it's contents with your relatives who have none, you or they desire to have more copies to keep, please let me know by ~~December 31, 1982~~, July 1, 1984 and if there are enough requests for copies to be made, I can have more printed up to sell.

Also, there have been some inquiries made as to making a book in the future of photographs of the various families. If you have some photographs of your ancestors, present family and your descendants, and would like to have them included in the photo album, send them to me and I'll see if I can put the book together. Please identify the people in the photographs with their full name and put your name on it also so I'll know who the pictures belong to.

OVER Please

Thanks again. It has been very interesting making this book possible and meeting you all too with visits, phone calls, and letters. Please do keep in touch.

Dear Kermit, I am now taking (11-18-83) orders for the family book I am having done about A.S.A. Haynes. It will be similar to the one I had printed last year on the Everetts family, but will have more families in it since it goes back to 1812 and includes all born to A.S.A. Haynes (that I know about). A.S.A. was your grandfather Joseph's grandfather. These books will be $20 more or less (less I hope). Will you please check with Charlene and Harbey, and then let me know how many, if any, you want to order by January 4. Also, if there have been any changes in your family since I wrote the book last year, & you want them included in this new book, be sure to send the details as to whom the event occurred, when, where etc. etc. I need this info by December 14. Thanks for all your help in the last few years. Have a happy holiday season!

Just a Last-Minute Rehearsal

Dorothy Cripe, 8, third grader from Lind, Wash., does a little rehearsing before her concert with the Lind grade orchestra, directed by Gilbert Burns. Her young admirer is her brother, Florian, 7, and a second grader. He wanted to sing, as he does at home, but got no opportunity on the program of the annual school music festival at Cheney yesterday.

HISTORY OF EVERTTS FAMILY

Philander and Mary (Polly) Parsons Haynes were married in Vermont and started westward on their wedding journey. They settled for several years near Cleveland, Ohio, where Mary Celesta, was born November 19, 1835.

They came in covered wagons over the old wagon trail running from Defiance to Orland which is now the Bellefountaine road and first settled on a farm across from the Eddy cemetary where they lived until Grandmother Everttz was about four years old

While living here there were travelers going through on the wagon trail and their little child took sick and died. They buried the child in what is now the Eddy cemetary because it was on a hill and sandy soil. This was the first white person to be buried there.

The old homestead of 80 acres was first owned by Timothy McClure and the family bought the farm from him and moved there in 1839 about 100 years ago. The children's names were Mary, Matilda, Andrew, Seymor, Frank, and Esther all deceased.

The first house didn't have any floor in it and they used a heavy blanket for a door, it only had one room. Grandmother Everttz could remember the Indians coming to the house and lifting the blanket at the door and trying to talk. There was an Indian Village with wigwams along the east bank of the creek, near the old creek road. Grandma told how they disappeared all at once in the night.

The second house built was also of logs but this had an attic, a floor, and a door. It stood a little east of where the stone milk house stands now. Some of their first neighbors were Sim Aldrich and the Houltons.

Grandmother Haynes taught school in her kitchen, there being no school houses, She had seven scholars. Seymor the oldest boy, would upset the benches the children used just for fun.

Taxes had to be paid in silver so Grandmother Haynes would save all the silver she would get for teaching the neighbors' children to use for taxes.

When Grandmother Everttz was about 17 years old her Father, then 36 years old, died and the following spring the mother was taken leaving her the oldest of a family of six to try and keep the family together.

When she was eighteen she married Gilbert Conrad Everttz and they bought the farm where she always lived making a home for her brothers and sisters. Also his two boys, Pete who was a baby when his own mother died and Frank. Grandfather Everttz' first wife's name was Adeline Ensor.

Grandfather Everttz' Mother's maiden name was Christina Rhodes, of German descent, Pennsylvania. His father was a Yankee from Vermont.

Grandfather Everttz was known for years as "Squire Everttz." He was justice of peace for 23 years. Uncle Andrew used to say when he saw a boy and girl turn in the yard with a yellow envelope, "There's going to be another wedding." The children would some times stand on the cellar door and peek in the window to see the couples get married. One girl fainted when the knot was being tied.

HISTORY OF EVERETTS FAMILY

The present house has been built about 78 years. The two bedrooms at the west were a porch when the house was first built. The old road going past the west side of the house was changed about 45 years ago.

The children's names were Rosetti; Harrison (died in infancy); Martin; Lincoln; Andrew; Joseph; Reuben; Mary Ann; Matilda (died in infancy); and Gilbert.

Grandmother Everttz made her own candles and spun wool yarn. When Uncle Andrew's family (from Kansas) were visiting long ago, she had the grand children all come to see her mold candles and spin yarn on the old spinning wheel after she had carded the wool.

Some of the old neighbors were the Frubys; Aldriches; Colls; Rummels; Conkeys; Lenorads; Haswells; Clarks; Rickleys; Garbers; and Martins.

My Father bought his Mother her first glass can for 25¢ and sat flat in the box of the wagon holding it in his lap all the way home to keep it from breaking. He picked huckleberries in the marsh to fill it.

Grandfather Everttz died in November, 1874. My father was the oldest child, he was only 14 years old. Grandmother Everttz was a widow 47 years keeping the family together and the old homestead until her death June, 1921. Uncle Gil bought the farm - now 106 acres.

Uncle Frank married Anna McClellan. Martin married Addie McCurdy. Andrew married Vinna Repp. Lincoln married Mattie Ball. Joseph married Eunice Slentz. Ruben married Allie Slentz. Mary Ann married Ray Chappell. Gilbert married Maude Betz.

Uncle Andrew was married in October and went to Kansas to homestead in January, where he has always made his home. The rest of the children all lived not more than 5 to 20 miles away from the old home where they were born.

Martin, Andrew, Mary Ann, and Gilbert are the only members of the family now living.

And so again we have met in a family reunion, on the old homestead, in the memory of those who came as pioneers to make a home in a new country.

PENNSYLVANIA MARRIAGE LICENSES, 1742–1748.

[The following lists of Marriage Licenses, issued between 1742 and 1748, are copied from the original License Book, in which are also recorded those for "Public Houses, Indian Traders and Pedlars, Vessels Registered [Thomas Graeme, Naval Officer], and Fines." Between December of 1742 and May 1746, only the names of the male applicants are of record, but between 1746–1748, both are entered. The fee for a Marriage License was £1., and the clergymen who purchased them in quantity, "to be accounted for," are the Reverend Messrs. Backhouse, Currie, Pugh, Becket, Ross and Tranberg.]

INSCRIPTIONS IN THE UPPER GERMANTOWN BURYING-GROUND.

BY PETER D. KEYSER, M.D.

As a supplement to the History of the Upper Germantown Burying-Ground, printed in the last number of the magazine,* the following transcript of the names and dates on the tombstones now standing in the ground is interesting.

It will be seen how family names become changed, often in one generation, and where a stone is erected by the children or grandchildren the altered name is put on for the old person, who may perhaps have come from Germany or Holland, and always carried the name in its proper spelling and pronunciation of his fatherland.

Monument to Maj. Irvine, Capt. Turner, of North Carolina, Adj[t]. Lucas, and six soldiers killed in the battle of Germantown.

This monument was erected by Mr. John F. Watson, the historian.

The following old stone is so worn that the name cannot be made out:

Hier Ruhen, A. M., geboren 1679, gestorben 1735, æt. 56 Jahr.

[1] How did the body of Cornelius Tyson get in this ground? He died before Paul Wulff gave the lot for a burial-ground. It is said that Francis Daniel Pastorius had this stone put over his grave, and Pastorius died in 1720,—four years before this was made a graveyard.—P. D. K.

Genealogical Gleanings from the Whitman Sampler Collection

Compiled by
MRS. A. DOUGLAS OLIVER
MRS. CHARLES B. BARCLAY

AMERICANS have long been familiar with the Sampler box of the Whitman Chocolate Company, first introduced in 1912. The design of the box was based on authentic sampler motifs, and reflected the interest in samplers by the family of the president of Whitman. This interest ultimately led to the collection of 578 samplers by the Company. They date from 1662 to the 20th century, and are of American, English and European origin. The collection was presented to the Philadelphia Museum of Art by Whitman's Chocolate Division of Pet, Inc., in 1969.

According to the Webster's Dictionary, the word "sampler" is derived from the Latin root meaning "example." Originally, it was a piece of needlework made to preserve a pattern or patterns; later, it was made as a sample of skill, especially to show embroidered letters or verses — usually on a background of linen or canvas. Samplers achieved their greatest popularity from about 1790 to the Civil War period; they were often worked by younger children up to their early teens as "lesson books," and were signed and dated upon completion.

Many samplers provide information of genealogical value, such as the age of the child completing the work and, in some instances, family records listing the names of parents, brothers and sisters, and dates of births, marriages and deaths.

Through the courtesy of the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the records here presented are copied from those samplers giving information of genealogical interest. Idiosyncracies of spelling, capitalization, punctuation and spacing are retained to help give some of the flavor of the originals. Catalog numbers are given for the samplers in the Museum Collection; also included,

CHAPTER III

THE EARLY PIONEERS AND THE GERMAN BAPTIST BRETHREN

Before the early settlers came into what is now Columbiana County, the Wyandotte, Delaware and Mingo Indian tribes lived and hunted in the thick forests which covered the area. As the white man settled, the Indians would come to view these strange new people. The white man showed the Indian friendliness and the Indian returned the same. There were a few instances of hostility; however, these were soon brought to justice by those involved. Ohio became a state in 1803, and that same year Columbiana County was organized. The county was much larger then but had only five townships. In 1803, the population totaled 543 settlers in the county.(8:31) During the next 43 years the county decreased in size with portions going to the formation of new counties, namely, Stark, Carroll, Mahoning and Jefferson. The first venture into this county was made by John Quinn who settled between 1792 and 1793. Then with statehood many more came to the wilderness to make their new homes.

Land here in Knox Township was first purchased by land speculators who in turn resold the land in smaller parcels at a higher price to the early settlers. Some of the early pioneers purchased the land directly from the government and held deeds signed by the president at that time. Adam Hahn came in 1803 to what would later become North Georgetown. William Hahn came from Maryland in 1804, having come to America from Germany. He held a deed bearing the signature of President Thomas Jefferson. John Thomas settled in 1804. He and five sons established themselves with St. Michael's Lutheran Church at North Georgetown; however, two sons, Henry and Samuel, married girls of the German Baptist faith. They in turn joined with their wives in the German Baptist Church at Reading. His only daughter married John Niswander and also stayed with the church at Reading. Also moving into the township in 1804 was Jacob Shaffer.

Other pioneers coming into Knox Township included Andrew Whiteleather in 1807 with his eight children. John Weaver arrived in 1819 from Pennsylvania. His father John Sr. came in 1822. Christian Dellenbaugh and his son, the doctor, arrived in 1824. John Burton came in 1826 from New Jersey. Moving from Salem Township to Knox in 1829 was Samuel Hoffman and his eight children. George Bowman settled in 1832. Many pioneer families came in those early years including Jacob Stoffer, Henry Keister, Daniel Shively in 1809, and George and John Mountz. These early settlers and/or their descendants became important in the life of the Sandy Church with a congregation centered around the small village of Reading.

In the spring of 1805, John Thomas began laying out the Thomas Road on which the Reading Church is located. Having been commissioned by the county officials, he set about chopping a road through the wilderness north of Lisbon and following the northern branch of the old Eastern and Western Indian trail. (13:24) The road followed the trail north of Winona through North Georgetown, Homeworth, Freeburg and Louisville. The left branch then went on to the Indian capital at Bolivar. The right branch led on west to Cuyahoga. John Thomas was responsible for brushing the trail from north of Lisbon to Louisville. This was the only road for the very early travelers. It was along this Thomas Road that the German Baptists built their Reading Meeting House. The Thomas Road has since been renamed the Georgetown Road.

Knox Township came into being March 7, 1808, with the election of the first trustees. That same year the first taxes were collected. Weekly mail came by horseback as early as 1811. The stagecoach brought mail and passengers in 1829. North Georgetown was laid out in 1830, platted by John Whiteleather and George Stiger. In 1828 John Weaver built the first log house in what was to become a village. Then in 1833, Jacob Ritter opened the hotel to accommodate the stagecoach passengers traveling through the new territory. To the west was a small hamlet called Reading. Platted in 1840 when a small number of houses were built there, it was thought that Reading would become the trade center of the township; however, Reading never grew beyond the original forty acres.(14:284)

Samuel Thomas opened the first school in the township in 1806 in a log cabin. By 1826 there were four school districts, and later this increased to twelve. Isaac Heestand deeded three-fourths of an acre to Samuel Huffman for school purposes. The land was to be used for a schoolhouse and burying grounds. The congregation could then have a place for the preacher to hold funerals. This transaction took place in 1837.(5:630-631)

Among the early settlers whose descendants belonged to the German Baptist congregation were a few settlers in West Township. Michael Sanor arrived in 1804 with eleven

INTRODUCTION

The main purpose of this book is to aid in the location of an ancestor in respect to time and place. The following lists contain the names of several thousand Frederick Countians who lived in the county during the period, 1750-1790. The author has included a wide range of records held by the Maryland State Archives. The identifying Archives Accession Numbers are included with each list.

Most of the lists are self explanatory. A few words need to be said regarding the following lists:

1761 Tax List - In using the 1761 Tax List for Old Town and Sugarland Hundreds note that the tax act of 1712 stated that all male persons and all female slaves of the age of 16 or above shall be accounted taxable except clergymen and such poor people as receive alms from the county and all such slaves as adjudged to be past labour. Although excluded as a non-taxable, the name of a white woman may appear on these lists, in which case we would assume her to be the owner.

Estrays - The list of estrays refers to persons who have in their custody stray animals (horses, cows, pigs, sheep, etc.). The law required individuals to report this fact shortly after the animal strayed onto the farm.

Levy lists - This list refers to payments made by the county court. The actual amount of the payment has been omitted in these abstracts. At certain periods a bounty was paid to persons for the killing of wolves, squirrels, bears, crows and other animals. Many persons who did not own property and would otherwise not appear public records may appear on these lists.

There is a great wealth of genealogy to be found in court records beyond that covered here. Occasionally a relationship is revealed, a date of death or other bits of information not found elsewhere. The author plans to continue her exploitation of these records in future volumes with a second volume for Frederick County planned for the immediate future.

Tradition has it that John Summer[2] had 23 children. Also, Miss Margaret Snyder[5] (Margaret Witter[4] Mary Magdalene Summer[3] John[2] John[1]) states that her grandmother, Mary Magdalene(Summer[3]) Witter, stated that she had a brother who served in the War of 1812 and never returned. The official Roster of Ohio Soldiers of the War of 1812 contains an Isaac Summer, who is believed to be this missing son of John[2]. That there were seven other children is entirely possible when the above table of births is studied, allowing for the three wives with which tradition credits John[2]. These seven probably died young, since the will was made seven years after the birth of Solomon, the youngest child mentioned in the will.

Dear Florian,

I would love to add your data to mine. You have data that I do not about John Stump. I do not know any more about his parents either. This information has been passed to me from my wife's grandfather, who has since passed.

Sincerely
Nick Fowler

BARBARA SUMMER[3] John[2] John[1]

b June 12, 1801; d Mar. 12, 1864; m John Stump; b Nov. 28, 1796; d Sept. 17, 1858; son of Adam* and Stump.

According to Miss Catharine B. Stump[5], granddaughter of Barbara Summer Stump, Barbara and her husband were both born in Frederick County, Md. This being the case, her birth probably occurred during a temporary residence of her parents in that county, for other records indicate that their farm home was located in Manheim Tp., York County, Pa., just across the line from Frederick County. Furthermore, when her father, John Summer[2], took up land in Columbiana County, Ohio, in 1806, he gave his address as York County, Pa.

Barbara and John Stump were married in Greensburg, Pa., and settled in Springfield Tp., Columbiana County (now in Mahoning County), Ohio. Court records show that they purchased from Barbara's father 162 acres of land in Section 24 of Township, on 1819. About the year they removed to Stark County, Ohio, where they lived until about 1833 and in which year they migrated westward, settling in Tiffin, Senaca County, Ohio. While living here John entered the northwest quarter of Sec. 18 of Orange Tp., Hancock County, Ohio, in August, 1834, but did not move his family to the new location until 1838. He built and operated the first grist mill and "corn cracker" in Orange township, its location being on Riley Creek. After a number of years here, contributing their share to the development of a new community, the couple removed to Indiana, passing on to their reward at Elkhart, Noble County.

* The Census of 1790 lists only one "Head of a Family" by the name of Stump in Frederick County, Md. His given name was Adam, and it therefore seems probable that he was the father of John Stump, although we have no positive evidence to that effect.

*During the year 1800, George Adam Hahn, father of Peter, left his eastern home with a family of six sons and daughters, settling in Columbiana County, Ohio. The same year George Adam Stump, with his four sons and six daughters, left York County, Pa., and occupied land in the same district in Ohio. Both these pioneers had served in the American Army during the Revolution. These two families, with another by the name of Sumner (undoubtedly meant for Summer--MBS),formed the nucleus of a new community."

From "History of Summit County, Ohio," by Perrin, 1881; p 984.

Note: Mrs. Leona Summers, widow of Chauncey Summers* (Solomon^3 John^2 John^1) stated on March 7, 1936, that her father-in-law, Solomon^3, stated that his sister Anna had the John^2 Summer family Bible, and that it was burned while in her possession. The inference is that this family Bible had the names of members of the family, with dates of birth, death, etc. Since she died four years before her father's death, he might have prepared another family list, but if he did no trace of it has been found.

* For age of John Stump, see baptismal records of Hermans Ref. Church, Manheim Twp., York Co., Pa - On file at York Co. Hist. Society, York, Pa
